MANSFIELD A SUPER WITH MOTT AS STAR.

Made to Play a Very Humiliating Role in a Police Court.

Told to Stand Back When He Tries to Take the Front of the Stage.

FINE OF TEN DOLLARS IMPOSED.

All These Indignities Are Heaped Upon the Portrayer of "Beau Brummell" and "Prince Karl" Because He "Sassed" a Policeman.

Actor Richard Mansfield, gentlemanlike and composed, stood at the bar of the York-ville Court yesterday morning and faced Magistrate Mott, who glared sternly down upon him. The actor had been arrested for riding his blcycle on the Concourse, beside the Casino, in Central Park, where no bicycle riders are allowed, and for abusing the policeman who remonstrated with him. Polceman Monahan, who has been a member of the Park Police for over thirty-five years, appeared as complainant. He had been greatly angered at Mansfield's behavior and spoke with much heat.

Your Honor, this gentleman was riding on the Concourse and endangering children's lives. When I called to him to stop he abused me. He called me a jackass, Your Honor."

The officer's voice rose and he became nore angry as he proceeded. "He said that I was a blackmailer, and he said he would nake me lose my place for speaking to him. And he said that he had often given me tips-that he had given me tips, Your

This last charge semed to have hurt the policeman's feelings most of all, and after a moment's pause he added, sharply, "So I thought I would bring him before you and let him show just what tips he had ever

MANSFIELD IN HIS OWN DEFENCE. "Your Honor," said Mansfield, "I took him for a man I had often seen there, and to whom at various times I had given tips for holding my horse"

"What's that? What's that?" Interrupted the Magistrate, sharply. "Do you expect me to believe that you ever tipped a uniformed officer for holding your horse?

"No. And it was my mistake. I mistook him for a man employed about the place. His wearing a uniform did not disabuse me of the idea, for I have been so much in Europe, where servants and atendants wear a distinctive dress that I"—— "Don't tell me that!" cried the Magi-

Magistrate in confidential tones.

the Magistrate. "What do I care about that? Did he commit the offence with which he is charged? Did he ride where the name Devonshire Sherig when John he ought not to have ridden? Did he call Sullivan was arraigned in Centre Street

"Will you pay attention to what I tell you." said the Magistrate. "I want you to understand that I am the Judge here, and that you are not running this court. Do you know anything about this case?" "And I didn't seatl anything. I was just here to explain my client's innocence of any intentional violation"— "Huccome yo' hat on de deck of deschoorer ef you all warn't up yondah?" pertinently inquired Devonshire. "Huccome yo' hat on de deck of deschoorer ef you all warn't up yondah?" pertinently inquired Devonshire. Sullivan opined that some mischievous and hear what occurred?" "Stand up with your hands above your head or I will shoot," she said. The man made a motion as if to reach the street.

"Huccome yo' hat on de deck of deschoorer ef you all warn't up yondah?" pertinently inquired Devonshire. Sullivan opined that some mischievous and hear what occurred?" "And I didn't seat! anything. I was just to tear each other to pieces in the street.

The women are neighbors and had a falling out, and when Mrs. Krieger saw Mrs. Schempp standing on the sidewalk she could not resist the temptation to make a remark that was intended to be vary cutting. Mrs. Schempp retorted in vary cutting. Mrs. Schempp retorted in vary cutting. The women are neighbors and had a falling out, and when Mrs. Krieger saw Mrs. Schempp standing on the sidewalk she could not resist the temptation to make a remark that was intended to be vary cutting. Mrs. Schempp retorted in vary cutting. Mrs. Schempp retorted in vary cutting. The women are neighbors and had a falling out, and when Mrs. Krieger saw falling out, and when Mrs. Krieger saw falling out, and when Mrs. Schempp retorted in vary cutting. The two women are neighbors and bad or I will shoot," she said.

The man instantly threw up his hands. "Annie, go and get an officer," said Mrs. was intended to be vary cutting. Mrs. Schempp retorted in vary cutting. The women are neighbors and bad or I will shoot," she said.

The man is stand or I will shoot," the women are neighbors and bad or I will sho

"Oh!" succeed Mott. "Then you don't stop riding when the pollceman cailed to At this, Mr. Mansfield, ignorant of court procedure, turned to leave the bar, to go upon the bridge, where his attorney and the policeman were standing.

THE ACTOR TOLD TO SPEAK HIS LINES.

A regular monthly meeting of the James A. Garfield Club will be held this evening at 8 o'clock at the club rooms, No. 181 East Thirty-second street.

to the actor, "don't you know you had no business to be riding where you would en-danger the lives of thousands of children?"
"There was not a child in sight when I was there," was the reply, delivered in the actor's best voice. "That makes no difference. It's a place for them, and they might have been there. I fine you $10."

As Lawyer Gleason leaned over the desk and tried to say something conciliating, the Magistrate said: "I don't want to hear you. Get away, I tell you! Officer, clear the bridge and call the next case. Your case is over. Don't try to talk to me, PROMPTLY PAID HIS FINE,

The fine was paid and the actor and his lawyer left the court together. Magistrate Mottt, in his excitement, had forgotten that the arrest was on two charges—for Actor Richard Mansfield Fined by Magistrate Mott. A fine of $10 was yesterday imposed upon Richard Mansfield in the Yorkville Court for having ridden his bicycle on Saturday upon a forbidden path of Central Park and for having threatened the policeman who ordered him off. Magistrate Mott would listen to no testimnoy concerning the actor's excellent character and gentility, and when Mr. Mansfield essayed to step within the railing he was told to "Stand back!" He paid his strate harshly. "You have fived long enough in New York to know a policeman and to know that you can't give a tip to one. Don't make such statements in this servants are uniformed that he has be-Mr. Mansfield at once subsided. An anxious expression came into his face. He had never met Mr. Mott before and did not know what severity such an angry outburst might portend.

A. W. Gleason, a lawyer, of No. 265 Broadway, who had stepped up on the bridge, leaned forward and spoke to the Magistrate in confidential tones.

Magistrate in confidential tones.

"This is a gentleman of character and reputation, Your Honor," he began.

"What's that to do with 11?" snapped lock Holmes Overy.

Steward Sherig, of the Meirose, Put a Sher-lock Holmes Overy.

"Oh!" sheered Mott. "Then you don't know anything about the case at all, I automatic gun have been progressing at the navy yard in this city for several days. her remarks were especially exasperating the navy yard in this city for several days. They are regarded as satisfactory, and the to the baker's wife, for the latter ran across

A-129 COMING EVENTS.

IN THE OPEN STREET.

Two Women Seek to Tear Each Other to Pieces in the Presence of a Big Crowd.

gle and It Is Deserted During the Battle.

this officer a jackass? That's what I want to know."

HIS LAWYER SPEAKS FOR HIM.

"Mr. Mansfield is my client, Your Honor," said the lawyer blandly. "He did not know the rules of the Park. He is a gentleman of standing and reputation"—

"Stop! Stop right there! Keep still. I tell you! Don't talk about that! You go on, over and over again with what doesn't concern the case."

"I am here to represent my client, and to see that he has his rights. I speak of his standing and character"—

"Will you pay attention to what I tell you?" said the Magistrate. "I want yon to understand that I am the Judge here, "And I didn't seat! anything. I was a fermion of the content of the conten Hackensack, N. J., July 12.-Mrs. Lena Weish pointed her revolver at him.

> Washington, July 12.—Tests of the Colt equally biting words. Mrs. Schempp apby contact with the curbstone.

city. Her three-story house is known for its handsome furnishings and costly silver-ware.

Mrs. Welsh was asleep in the front room of the second story at about 2 o'clock when she was awakened by one of her servants, who said there was a burglar in the house. The wildow quietly silpped on a wrapper and took a revolver from the second story at about 2 o'clock when she was awakened by one of her servants, who said there was a burglar in the house. The wildow quietly silpped on a wrapper and took a revolver from the second story at about 2 o'clock the two latter giving their residence as No. 123 East Thirty-sixth street, the home of Dr. Douglas as executor. It was witnessed by Mrs. Douglas Charles A. Manson, and Harry R. F. White, the two latter giving their residence as No. 123 East Thirty-sixth street, the home of Dr. Douglas as executor. It was witnessed by Mrs. Douglas Charles A. Manson, and Harry R. F. White, the two latter giving their residence as No. 123 East Thirty-sixth street, the home of Dr. Douglas, The will was made on January 16, 1894, and Mrs. Frame did three days later with the mames Dr. Douglas as executor. It was witnessed by Mrs. Douglas, Charles A. Manson, and Harry R. F. White, the two latter giving their residence as No. 123 East Thirty-sixth street, the home of Dr. Douglas. The will was made on January 16, 1894, and Mrs. Frame did three days later with the mames Dr. Douglas as executor. It was witnessed by Mrs. Douglas on the Roosev. Charles A. Manson, and Harry R. F. White, the two latter giving their residence as No. 123 East Thirty-sixth street, the home of Dr. Douglas. The will was made on January 16, 1894, and Mrs. Frame did three days later. Mrs. Frame did three he ought not to have ridgent. Did he call the house. The widow quiety supper on died two months after the will was made.

Police Court yesterday on the charge of largeny.

HAIR PULLED OUT, FACES SCRATCHED a wrapper and took a revolver from the largeny. burenu drawer. She went into the sitting-room, which is above the dining-room in the rear of the house, and turned on the gas. As she did so she saw a man in the glass-covered extension below. He was endeavoring to force open the windows leading to the back parlor. Mrs. "What are you doing there?" she demanded, keeping the weapon levelled at

The intruder started, turned and mum-

"I know what my client tells me," said

Automatic Gun Tests Satisfactory.

Washington July 19 Tests of the Call squally hiring words. Was Schempp retorted in the man.

The latter stood like a statue. In about liceman Haines, of the Mercer Street Sta-The iraseible Judge then turned to Mr.

Mansfield and said: "Now, sir, tell me vour story. And explain why you didn't four hundred shots per minute.

They are regarded as satisfactory, and the to the baker's wife, for the latter ran across the street, and, regardless of the fact that department will be carried out The arm is Mrs. Schempp was encumbered with an infant in her arms, attacked her with her four hundred shots per minute.

They are regarded as satisfactory, and the to the baker's wife, for the latter ran across the street, and, regardless of the fact that department will be carried out The arm is four hundred shots per minute.

They are regarded as satisfactory, and the to the baker's wife, for the latter ran across the street, and, regardless of the fact that they are regarded as satisfactory, and the to the baker's wife, for the latter ran across the street, and, regardless of the fact that the street that the contracts with the street, and, regardless of the fact that the street that the contracts with the street. The street that the contracts with the street. The street that the contracts with the street. The street that the street that the contracts with the street. The street that the street that the contracts with the street that the street that the contracts with the stree lenched fists. The baby fell at the first he worked at his brother's saloon, at the blow and was seriously cut on the face latter address, and had been drinking heavily for some weeks. The rear of the

Margaret's Signature.

CHILD OF UNUSUAL FAIRNESS.

tion of the Case and Appoints Her Counsel.

A mystery lies hidden in the will which him up in the Oak Street Station. It her mother cuts her off with one dollar. Four times the will has been up for probate before Surrogate Arnold, but each time, at the request of the opposing lawyers, consideration of the remarkable document has been delayed. Last Friday it was he this month. Both her parents are dead. When Marian was born her mother, Mar-

Fires at Him and Makes Him before her death, had been filed for probate in the Surrogate's office in this city. Mrs. Neyant was greatly astonished, for she did not know her ward's mother had left any house the world with the excessive humidity for the mendacious assertions of a large percentage of the New York populace that this is the

ONLY A DOLLAR BY HER MOTHER'S WILL.

Hife was that she could not keep her daughter with her."

"I do not like to think," said little Marian, "that my mother only left me one dollar. I am sure she loved me, for she always said she did."

Lawyer Slimonson, when asked about the will, said:

"I am attorney for Dr. Douglas. This will was given to me some time after the woman's death. It was put away and forgotten for some time. Mrs. Frame's sister, who gets most of the money, is a poor woman. This is the only reason I can assign for leaving the daughter only one dollar. Family reasons, however, make it impossible for me to go more into details."

Dr. Douglas and his family are spending the Summer in New Hampshire. It is thought he will be in the city by August 11, when another effort will be made to probate the will.

Margaret's Signature.

TRIED TO STAR A POLICEMAN.

TRIED TO STAB A POLICEMAN. Blate Made a Savage Lunge at Kennedy and Was Locked Up. Her Beauty So Attrarts the Surrogate That Henry Blate, forty-five years old, of No. 606 Pallsade avenue, Jersey City, made a savage attempt to stab a policeman yesterday afternoon at the corner of Batavia and Roosevelt streets, and it required the united efforts of three policemen to lock purports to have been made by Margaret Shortly before 6 o'clock last evening Blate, who was intoxicated, was found by blue-eyed, rosy-cheeked and golden-haired little daughter, Marian, is contesting, for in it her mother cuts her off with one dollar. Four times the will have been dollar.

Marlan Frame was born twelve years ago Complaint Against Pickpocket Caught on Ferryboat Dismissed.

His Head.

Neyant was greatly astonished, for she did not know her ward's mother had left any money. The day of the hearing she brought Marian to the city, and was in the Surrogate's office when the case was called Lawyer E. G. Simonson, of No. 149 Broadway, represented Dr. Douglas, who was named as executor in the will. Although the amount involved was only $700, Surrogate Arnold was so impressed with Marian's beauty that he postponed consideration of the New York populace that this is the dottest day of the year.

"That humidity, by the way, while it wills our collars and opens our pores and a stick, routed out the cur, which then ran into the store and thence into the fruit man's living rooms in the rear. The dog was then chased from under the bed and in the way of cooling thunder showers.

WOULD HAVE KILLED HIM IF NEED BE.

Magistrate in a Diamond Hunt.

TO-DAY AND TO-MORROW,

Several Deaths Undoubtedly Due to the Cruel Weather.

Excessive Humidity to Blame for the Intolerable State of Affairs.

New York Said by the Weather Bureau to Be Better Off Than Other Places.

WARMER TO-DAY AND NEXT DAY.

lune and July Have Been Banner Months for Humidity and June Had an Excessive Rainfall-Hot and Clear the Country Over.

"It's pretty warm," said Farmer Dunn 3 yesterday, "but it isn't the warmest day of the year, and the past week isn't the warmest July week in the records. There again decided to postpone action for an NOT IN THIS JURISDICTION. are others; yes, emphatically, there are "What's bothering the population of New York at present," he continued, "Isn't heat When Marian was born her mother, Margaret Ann White Frame, was an old and trusted housekeeper in the home of Dr. Orlando B. Douglas, of No. 123 East Thirty-sixth street, this city, treasurer of the New York Medical Society, and one of the stand of the Post-Graduate College.

Mrs. Frame's infant, when two weeks old, was sent to the Foundling Asylum on Madison avenue, and from there it was sent to Mrs. Emily J. Neyant, who lives on a little farm in the mountains about ten miles back of West Polnt. Regularly every month, until Mrs. Frame died, three years ago, Mrs. Neyant received from Dr. Douglas a check for $10 for little Marian's board. Since Mrs. Frame's death Mrs. Neyant was served with a notice last April to the effect that a will, purporting to have been made been made by Mrs. Neyant was served with a notice last April to the effect that a will, purporting to have been made been made and the complaint was dismissed.

Matthew Childs, of Kearny, N. J., while but humidity. A lot of people who are suffering don't know the difference, however, and set their discomfort down to heat, But really the temperature so far this month has been just about 71 and has gradually worked up to-noticed two young men acting suspiciously and recognized his chain dangling from the pocket of one of them.

Childs grabbed the fellow and pulled the watch to make a complaint against him. Sergeant Conline.

When on the beat, a few minutes later, he noticed two young men acting suspiciously and recognized his chain dangling from the pocket of one of them.

Childs grabbed the fellow and pulled the watch to the boat on this side Childs called Officer of British and the complaint against him. Sergeant Conline.

The maximum temperature to day was station, and had the man taken to the station house, where he wanted to make a complaint against him. Sergeant Conline.

The maximum temperature to day it is stored up caloric. However, it affects people the same as it does the form the boat on this side Childs called Officer of British and the comp but humidity. A lot of people who are suf-ing to the day; it's stored up caloric. Howhave been made by Mrs. Frame three days

POLICE BLOTTER MAD DOG. ever, it affects people the same as it does thermometers, and is responsible along

WOULD HAVE KILLED HIM IF NEED BE gate Arnold was so impressed with Marian's beauty that he postponed consideration of the was a many separate the postponed consideration of the waste of the postponed consideration of the colones of the Colon and the Man, When Arcested, Claims He Had Fallen into the Yard While in a Drunken Slumber.

Mrs. Margaret Welsh, a wealthy widow living fit No. 125 Waverley place, held an alleged burglar yestereday at the point of a revolver in the earlymorning for twenty minutes until the police came and took the man into custody.

Mrs. Welsh is about forty-five years old and a member of one of the old families who have owned and occupied residences have owned and occupied residences when she was awakened by one of her Mrs. Welsh was asleep in the front room of the second story at about 2 o'clock when she was awakened by one of her Douglas. The will was made on Janubar 10 to 1 that most of our heavy rains have oc-The big policeman at the gate in Centre usually higher in the morning, however, Street Police Court shouted "Close the for the atmosphere sustains the moisture during the day. The rainfall for June was excessive, but for July thus far we 'are 043 short of the average. That deluge on the 6th came near to evening us up, but it

OTHERS WORSE OFF THAN NEW YORKERS.

OTHERS WORSE OFF THAN NEW YORKERS,

"It is warm all over the East to-day—warm all over the country, in fact. This York, as usual, has all the best of it. This is a better Summer resort than a good many of the seaside places, to tell the truth. For instance, this morning at yo'clock, the thermometer in New York on registered 74. At Nantucket it was 78, Boston 78, at Albany 76, in Milwaukee and in Chicago 76. Philadelphia, of course, got the worst of it, with 80. Philadelphia always does excel in hot weather, if in nothing eise. Chicago had pretty cool weather during the convention, but perhaps the effect of the perfervid o'ratory is now being shown in a rising temperature. The Zist of June was just as hot as it is to-day, 87, but three days in May hold the record for the year. May 9, it was 91; May 10, 91; May 11, 89. July has that to beat yet.

"It is generally clear all over the country to-day, No rain has been reported from anywhere. I suppose there will be local thunder storms in many places to-night, however, local conditions combining with the universal heat to produce them."

Mr. Dunn has no hopes for immediate cooler weather to extend to the wilted populace.

"There is," said he, "every indication."